

Litchfield Chiropractic Center

Litchfield Chiropractic Center looked to Nuvera to improve their connectivity and technical support.

Litchfield Chiropractic Center's Challenge

The husband and wife team at Litchfield Chiropractic Center — Drs. Frank and Brittany Koch — are dedicated to helping patients improve their quality of life. As a family-owned and run business, the Koch's and their staff wanted the technical aspects of running the venture to be more streamlined and supported so they could focus on their patients.

Why They Chose Nuvera

Litchfield Chiropractic Center, a locally-owned business themselves, liked the idea of partnering with a local company with people from the community that they know — like Sue and Mike — for their Internet and managed software needs. They knew they could count on the customer support and the tech support from their local Nuvera office and staff.

Nuvera's reputation for speed and flexibility in their business applications was also a draw. With the promise of savings by bundling Internet and FlexVoice services, Litchfield Chiropractic Center knew that partnering with Nuvera would be a great decision.

How The Product Has Helped and Their Experience With Nuvera

Litchfield Chiropractic Center's software is cloud-based and they were dealing with many interruptions on a daily basis, due to poor connectivity.

Thanks to Nuvera's high-speed Internet, their connection has been much better. Nuvera's team of experts is also able to work with businesses to determine what is best for their unique needs and to make sure they only pay for what they need.

"We have had less slowdowns with software interruptions, which in turn, helps us keep the focus on patient care,"
